RED DEER DEFEATS CLIVE IN A NINTH INNINGS RALLY

Thrills Galore on the Local Ball Park With the Final Score 5 to 4.

It was a grand and glorious feeling when Red Deer scored the winning run in the ninth inning with two men down.

It was a good game of ball, in which the local boys made a very good showing. Howie, Malcolm picked a good game till his arm played out in the 7th, and he retired in favor of Percy Smith, the old reliable. Howie held the visitors to 2 runs, but they managed to score 2 more in the 5th, when what looked like a easy grounder approaching Malcolm on second suddenly bounded into the air and, grazing Howie's car, rambled off the field.

Letting Short and E. J. Egman. The next two men up went out at first.

Red Deer drew first blood when Grier, first man up, singled, was advanced by Dancocks's single, scored on Nelson's sacrifice. Time and again, a hit would have been worth a million dollars, once with the bases loaded and other times when the bases were full.

The public are beginning to come in for the Citizens' Cup competition, to be held here on the 1st of July. The Athly team from Calgary will be among those who will compete.

There will be a practice match on the grounds this (Wednesday) evening at 7 o'clock. All members are requested to turn out.

Mr. L. R. Baker and Mrs. H. F. Cox are attending the Baptist Convention, which is being held in Calgary this week.

Mr. L. R. Porter will give her report, tonight, in the Methodist church, on the recent W.M.S. Convention.

Mr. L. Oulmette, of Coleman, and formerly of Red Deer, was looking up old friends in the city on Monday.

Miss Bradley, who has been teaching at the North West school, is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. G. Douglas, Spryngville.

The annual Sunday School picnic in connection with the St. Luke's Sunday School will be held on Wednesday, July 11th, at Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith's farm at Balmoral.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will hold a strawberry festival on Saturday, July 14th, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Smith.

The United monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid and Women's Missionary Society will be held on Friday, July 13th, at 8 o'clock, in the hall of the church.

The lure of the out-of-doors played havoc with the plans for the regular meeting of the City Council on Monday morning, despite the fact that no meeting had been held for some time.

At Edmonton, on Wednesday, June 13th, T. W. Murray, accountant at the Soldiers' Hospital, was married to Miss Beatrice McNeil of the Revlon Co. staff, and formerly of Glasgow, Scotland.

The departure of the happy couple on the train going south attracted a large crowd to the depot to give them a good send-off, but too late they discovered they had been outwitted by their chauffeur had taken them to Penhold to entrain for Calgary.

During the ceremony at the church, Miss Theodora Ayres, the completed of the organ in a very efficient manner, playing the very pretty bridal march, played by the organist.

The New Glasgow with a host of friends in congratulations and good wishes to the young couple who are glad to know, will make their home near Red Deer.

It is probable that a special coach will be added to the Canadian Pacific train, leaving for Calgary, on the day of the wedding.

At the completion of the Memorial work of the memorial committee, between $200 and $500 more will be needed.

Just a little effort on the part of the various organizations is all that is needed. Let us finish the job, well begun and get this effort off our minds.

The re-enactment of the memorial on this page speaks for itself. We only have to pay for it, but it will be a memorial for generations.

Help the committee finish its work.

HOPPER WARNING

The grasshoppers are fairly well hatched now. Another couple of days of warm weather will bring most of them out in ordinary soils.

The low grounds are still to come. Mr. Bissomette has issued The News to warn the farmers not to put the bait out too early in the morning.

Two or three o'clock in the morning, or the night before, is senseless. Use your heads. With our cool nights, the young hoppers are not active till about 9 a.m., and if the bait is put out before 7 or 8 o'clock in the morning, it dries out and loses its attraction.

At three hills some fields have been cleaned off entirely merely because the bait was put out too early in the morning and failed to do its work.

There have been a couple of bad outbreaks at Wetaskiwin, and Mr. Cameron's bait has been used to include that territory, and he is working on it at present.

The demand for bait at the local mixing station is very healthy, and a lot of good work is being done.

PRIZE ESSAY ON
—CANADIAN

Written by Martin L. Siebert, Gazette School, Evergreen P.O., a Pupil of Grade VIII. This Essay Was Awarded Silver Medal in the Recent I.O.D.E. Essay Contest.

Laura Secord is essentially one of the most prominent figures in Canadian history and, even though a prominent female character. Her devotion and heroism will never be forgotten while Canadian history is a story of freedom. She is the truest example of patriotism which Canadians can follow. Although a woman, she performed a deed which few men would do when one thinks of all the dangers and hardships, the fears of dangers she must have known and felt. Let us hope that, whenever Canada needs brave spirits, there may be men and women who are so devoted to their country as Laura Secord.

Laura Secord was born in December, 1775. Her father was Thomas Ingersoll, and her mother was the sister of General John Whitling, of Great Barrington, Massachusetts. While John Gray's father was Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada he aided all Loyalists who had been able to come to Canada in 1783-84. Among those who came at his invitation was Thomas Ingersoll and his family. His mother and her children had come to Upper Canada before the Revolutionary war was over. They had travelled in a wagon and arrived penniless, without food, furniture or even such things as clothing. Mr. Secord had remained behind to fight in the British army. After James Secord was married, he and his wife settled first in the village of St. David's, about three miles from the Niagara River. When he moved to Queenston, where he opened a store.

For a long time Great Britain had been engaged in a war with Napoleon and so everybody in the British colonies was naturally very anxious that many were training in case they might be needed. In 1812 it seemed as if Napoleon was about to crush all his enemies, and all the soldiers Great Britain could gather were in Europe. So, when, in 1812, the United States of America declared war on Great Britain and immediately invaded Canada, the British could not send much aid to the colonists. It seemed as if Canada would easily be captured, because she had only about forty-five hundred regular troops and most of these were stationed in Lower Canada.

James Secord, who had been a captain in the Lincoln Militia, had resigned on account of a disagreement with his superior officer, volunteered for service. A general fight was fought at Queenston Heights, which resulted in a victory for the Canadians, but it cost the life of General Sir Isaac Brock, the best general in Canada at that time.

Secord, who was serving under Brock, helped to carry his general's body off the battlefield, and later in the engagement was himself severely wounded. His wife, who had been watching the battle from a distance, rushed to his aid when she heard he was wounded. She found him lying among the dead and wounded on the battlefield, surrounded by American soldiers, who were on the point of killing him. She called for aid, and one of the American officers, Captain Wool, who was ordered the soldiers away, an action which certainly saved James Secord's life. She carried him to his home and tenderly nursed him, although frequently his life was despaired of.

The Canadian forces had retreated from Queenston and taken up a position near Chippewa. The Secords were forced to remain at Queenston all summer since Mr. Secord's wound was not yet healed and he lay helpless in bed. Accordingly, many times American soldiers and officers were the unwelcome guests of the Secords.

One evening several American came to the house and demanded supper. While Mrs. Secord was busy preparing the food, the soldiers began to talk of a plan to surprise and capture Beaver Dams. Beaver Dams was a very important place, defended by sixty men, about half of them Indians, under Lieutenant Fitzgibbon. As Mrs. Secord listened to the conversation, and as Mrs. Secord felt great stupidity, the Americans suspected nothing and laid her while she was alone.

James Secord was in despair, for he was unable to leave his bed to go to warn Fitzgibbon, and was tortured by the thought that his countrymen were awaiting certain death while he was powerless to prevent it. American sentries watched the whole neighborhood so closely that no man could pass their lines, and Secord knew of no man whom he could trust to carry the message. Indeed, few men would attempt such a hazardous journey, but Mrs. Secord rose to the occasion. She put on her best dress, took a message to Fitzgibbon, and so save the lives of many brave Canadians. Early on the morning of June 25, 1812, Laura Secord arose and dressed in her shabbiest clothes, putting on no shoes and stockings. Driving a cow close to the American lines, she set down to milk, but the cow immediately kicked over the pull and ran.

towards the nearby forest. This was repeated several times, but the American sentries noticed only shabby and, apparently, very clumsy, milkmaid, who was very annoyed at her cow. Finally the cow ran past the sentries, followed by the woman, who was muttering angrily about the cow being "contrary." The sentries were much amused, little thinking that the cow was only trying to avoid the mischief Mrs. Secord was cleverly giving it.

When the cow ran into the woods, she followed until she judged the way safely beyond the American lines. Then she milked it to prevent its return home too soon, hid her pail and stool and started out towards Beaver Dams.

Twenty miles along a level, well-made road is not a great task for a strong person, but to go twenty miles through a pathless forest, over dangerous swamps and swift, deep streams is a task for a person with fear, with beating heart and quick-drawn breath, she pursued her way. The sun became hotter and hotter; the insects bit and stung furiously; her feet were soon torn and bleeding from the rough ground and bushes; every moment she dreaded discovery, but her great purpose urged her on. Almost fainting with pain and fatigue, the poor woman sped on hour after hour, fancying she saw in the distance the sentries of Americans about to dash out upon her. Day waned and night fell with all its attendant dangers. By moonlight she pressed on, often in doubt of her direction, and almost when she fancied her journey over the war-worn Indians filled the air. Visions of torture rose before her eyes and bitterness at what seemed to be failure filled her heart.

The Indians surrounded her and, with great fear she asked for the Canadian camp. Great joy filled her heart when she found that the Indians were friendly. They took her to Fitzgibbon to whom she repeated her story.

Preparations for the attack were at once begun, and a message was sent to Twelve Mile Creek for reinforcements. The Indians were scattered through the woods to ambush the Americans. When they arrived, after having fought their way through one ambush, the Indians, yelling horribly, fired volley after volley from all sides.

They made such a noise, and fired so surely without being seen, that the Americans believed they were surrounded by hundreds. They fought bravely for two hours, but "at last" the Americans were victorious. While the battle was undecided as to a course of action, Fitzgibbon appeared with his thirty soldiers and demanded their surrender.

After a few minutes' parley, the Americans surrendered rather than be massacred by the unseen enemy. Fortunately, reinforcements came to Fitzgibbon and he was able to guard his prisoners until the articles of surrender were signed.

Laura Secord lived for many years after this, and was greatly honoured by both Canada and Great Britain. As when the late King Edward VII., Prince of Wales, visited Canada he found time to go and see this old lady, and to hear from her own lips how she saved her country from defeat. She died on October 18th, 1885, and is buried beside her husband in Drummondville Cemetery.

A beautiful monument has been erected to her memory, to keep alive in Canadian hearts the memory of the glorious deeds of this brave woman.

CRESBORT FENCE-POSTS
OUTLAST CEDAR

For many years it has been thought that the only timber that would give a reasonable period of service as fence posts was cedar. The Forest Products Laboratories, of the Department of the Interior, Canada, state, however, that by employing a comparatively simple method it is possible to treat posts of certain hardwoods in such a way that they will have a life at least twice as long as cedar posts. The preservative effect of this treatment is clearly shown in fence erected at the Dominion Forestry Branch forest nursery at Indian Head 1917. Here posts of Russian poplar were used, and it is interesting to note that all the untreated posts have since decayed and been removed while the treated posts are all still in place. By this method it is possible to treat posts in place on the day they were placed in position.

FARMERS ARE LOSING BIG SUMS ANNUALLY

H. W. Wood, Speaking at Carstairs, Alta., Says the Loss is $35,000,000 Yearly.

Farmers of Canada lose more than $35,000,000 annually because of the present system of marketing their wheat, according to H. W. Wood, president of the U.F.A., speaking recently before the Carstairs Community club at Carstairs.

"Nearly 75 per cent. of Canada's wheat is sold on a falling market, after the price has reached its peak," he said. "When the demand is at its height the price goes to the peak. This wheat before the Canadian farmers release their wheat on the market. When they do so the demand is more than satisfied, with the result that the market breaks and the price goes down. This results in the farmers selling their wheat away below what they should really get for it, resulting in a loss of millions to them."

He said that his plan was for a wheat board to handle all of the wheat crop and act as a marketing agency to sell the wheat at the right time and not when the price is falling.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, June 8.

Cattle—Calgary market made new tops this week on steers, with prices of $7.50 and $8. Cows also selling a little higher. Choice heavy steers $7 to $8; choice light, $6.75 to $7.75 (shippers need not expect to get the tops unless they have outstanding animals); good, $5.75 to $6.50; medium, $5 to $5.50; common, $3 to $4.50. Choice cows, $5.25 to $6; good, $4.50 to $5; medium, $3.25 to $4.25; common, $2 to $3; canners, $1 to $1.75. Choice heifers will make $6.50. Bulls somewhat easier at $3.25 on tops. Calves good sellers at $5.50 to $6; common, $3 to $4.50. Feeders and stockers—Best feeders will bring $5 and down to $4; stocker steers, $2.50 to $4. Stocker heifers, $2.50 down; stock cows, $1.50 to $3.

Beef—Edmonton prices about steady with last week's prices, but not extra quality this period; choice heavy steers and choice light butchers, $6.50 to $7.50; good, $5.50 to $6.50; medium, $4.50 to $5.50; common, $3.50 to $4.50; two loads of export cattle sold. Choice steers, $4.50 to $5.50; good, $4 to $4.50; medium, $3 to $3.50; common, $2.50 to $3; canners, $1.25 to $1.75. Choice heifers made up to $6.50. Not many bulls offered; tops would make $3.50. Calves lower, with best at $4.50 to $5.50; common, $3 to $5. Feeders and Stockers—Market on feeder and stocker steers only moderate; market looks weaker. Choice feeders, $4 to $4.50; stockers, $2.50 to $3.50. Stock cows, $2 to $3.

Hogs—Last week's arrivals at Calgary closed at $12.75 to $13, and with only light receipts yesterday salesmen refused offers of $12.75. Prices today were $12.55.

Good receipts of hogs at Edmonton and Wednesday's price $12.75 to $13, the latter being on long haul hogs. One firm of packers gives 10 cents bonus on hogs. Hogs under 170 lbs., but not more than 50 a week out of yard receipts suitable for Wilman's Sheep.

Receipts at Calgary yards light; lambs would bring $12; weathers around $9, and ewes $8.

Market is firm at Edmonton, with moderate receipts. Lambs, $11 to $13; weathers, $9 to $11; ewes, $7.50 to $9.

Eggs—Prices unchanged; grades buying at 27c to 28c on extras; 25c to 26c on firsts; 17c for seconds; 10c on cracks; most of the eggs grading two; wherever refrigerator cars are available they should be used for hot weather shipments.

Creamery Butter—Unchanged, with only moderate surplus; Montreal showing little advance; Vancouver is waiting; probable price on cars around 38c; cartons, 38c. Butter—Prices lower following last week's decline in creamery; fancy table, 25c to 26c; on grade from 15c to 18c. Butterfat—Prices will follow any movement in outside butter prices. Poultry—Better movement—live fowl, 13c to 15c; chickens, 16c to 20c; old roasters, 8c to 10c. Dressed fowl, 12c to 20c; chickens, 18c to 21c. Potatoes—Sales at Calgary $10 to $16; no demand.

Butterfat—Prices at Edmonton unchanged at last week's decline, 30c, 27c, 24c on special, first and second grades; receipts under last week. Creamery Butter—Creameries report surplus now; no marketing represented, as Saskatchewan and Manitoba butter flooding market on consignment. It will take some time for this stuff to be absorbed. Cheese—Alberta lamb quoted at 17c; demand fair. Poultry—Little live poultry coming; no arrivals of new crop; prospects for big hatch this season.

Grain—Any movement in grain prices this week has been overshadowed so far as Alberta is concerned by the wheat and showers which have favored most sections, and will be of the greatest benefit to the sections where moisture was needed. Wheat and other prices have been going lower, and there does not appear to be any support to the decline. If the importing Europeans want wheat they are keeping mighty quiet about it, so far as cash shipments are concerned.

Wool—Buyers quite active and many sales being made; ordinary small clips bring 12c to 13c; top sections are coarse wool likely to drop.

Hides—All cow hides up 1c; green salted butcher, 4c; flat dried, 7c; kip skins, 4c to 5c; calf skins, 5c to 6c. Sheep skins advanced 25c to 50c. Horse hides unchanged at $1 to $1.50; horsehair unchanged at 25c to 30c for No. 1.

Furs—Market firm; coyotes higher at $5 to $10; spring muskrats, $1 to $1.50.

HADES HARD TO GIVE UP. Despite the assurance of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the impression still remains that those who have a clink in this life will probably get a sling in the next.

PRESBYTERIANS PUT OFF CHURCH UNION DECISION ANOTHER YEAR

In Meantime Legal Possibilities Over Church Property Will Be Thoroughly Canvassed.

Winnipeg, Man., June 10.—The church union committee of the Presbyterian assembly was instructed at Friday afternoon's session to investigate during the coming year the legal requirements of the question, and present a draft of the legislative bills to the next assembly so that the commissioners may be able to study them, and see how far the church could legally proceed in the division of church property. This was the decision of Dr. E. Scott, D.D., of Montreal, the strong anti-union leader, who had moved an amendment urging that the whole matter of union be dropped, or at another recommendation be taken. He withdrew this, however, and moved that the assembly agree to incorporate the following in the church union report, which, together with the report, was unanimously passed.

"That those opposing union state plainly that the moment action is taken looking toward consummation of union, they will be bound in all conscience to break with those supporting union, but that they believe it inadvisable to make any break until the time for action comes."

ADANAC MALE QUARTETTE

Excellent Program Was Provided at Trinity Church.

(Daily Telegraph, Kitchener, Ont.) The Adanac Male Quartette, of Toronto, made its initial appearance in Kitchener, at Trinity Methodist Church, on Thursday evening, and provided one of the finest musical and literary entertainments of the season. The Quartette is composed of four of the finest vocalists, and their voices blended most beautifully in the various selections which they rendered. Every number on the program was encores, and generally responded to by the artists. The Quartette was introduced by Messrs. H. Rutheford McDonald, bass and entertainer, Marley Sherris, baritone, J. Riley Hallman, second tenor and Albert Downing, first tenor. The audience was particularly delighted in the songs, and the Quartette, hearing two favorite vocalists, Messrs. McDonald and Hallman. The former spent several weeks in the city along with Rev. J. A. Gordon's mission about ten years ago, and has also been heard on other occasions. Mr. Hallman is a former Kitchener boy, who was in business here for some years before going to Toronto, where he acquired a musical training, and is today one of the most popular vocalists in the Queen City. His solos were especially greatly enjoyed, his selections being well suited for his sweet-toned voice.

Among the selections rendered by the Quartette were "Hymn Before Dawn" by Ward Law, "The Lord's Prayer," a beautiful composition by Giebel, "What From Vengeances," "Lullaby" by Shattuck, "Lullaby" and "Good-bye" by Tosti-Parks. All of these numbers were high-class and were rendered with remarkable expression and tone. In addition to the musical numbers, the Quartette presented a number of impressive monologues, including "Reminiscences of an Old Soldier," by Hastings, and an encore "A Soliloquy of an Old Soldier," by Whitcomb Riley. Mr. McDonald is a accomplished reader as he is a vocalist.

BUDGET PROPOSALS ARE ALTERED BY FINANCE MINISTER

Hon. W. S. Fielding Modifies the Tax on Checks, Express Money Orders, Etc.

Ottawa, June 12.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, tonight presented to the house important modifications to his own budget proposals. The much-discussed tax of checks and express money orders, as was expected, is modified. The original rate of two cents per fifty dollars remains, but the maximum of the tax will be two dollars. There are reductions in the tax on cigarettes, on soft drinks, on beer sugar, on stock transfers, although bonds are now included. There is a new tax of two cents on receipts of ten dollars and over, a change in the classification of cigars so as to make the higher paid cigar pay more and the cheap cigar a little less. There is a reinstatement of the automobile tax and a change in the regulations regarding depreciated currency.

Mr. Fielding's announcement was preceded by an analysis of criticism of his financial proposals made both within and without the house. He spoke feelingly, all the three parties giving him their most of applause, of the many kind things said of him during the debate in what, as he put it, "might be called the evening of my career."

ORDERS ARE SMALLER, BUT MORE NUMEROUS, MERCHANTS FIND

Winnipeg, June 10.—That business has been fairly adjusting itself to the lower plane is indicated in most districts being received. Although orders are smaller they would be wished, they are more numerous, and there is plenty of evidence that trade is recovering from the effects of depression, states the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Association.

Montreal advises that while wholesalers and manufacturers find orders fairly improving, exporters are very few instances. Retailers are also reporting better business, owing perhaps to improved weather conditions and farmers completing seedling. Collections are still somewhat slow.

Toronto wholesalers and manufacturers find the improvements in orders maintained. Dry goods, ladies' and men's wear, millinery, etc., are doing well, with an improvement also in boots and shoes. Hardware is also compared with the season. Retailers report satisfactory business, but collections slow.

Winnipeg distributors find business settling on a quiet, steady basis. The future. The gradual improvement noticeable during the past few weeks is still continuing. Collections are being maintained. A feature of local reports is that orders, although slow, are being maintained. It has been compared with previous years, indicating that retailers have yet to get back into their former buying stride.

Saskatchewan wholesalers report business improving slightly. Wheat is doing well, but collections are slow. Weather conditions are exceptional, and recent rains in this province and Alberta indicate that there will be lack of moisture for the next two or three weeks.

PATRONAGE ISSUE IS DISCUSSED BY ALBERTA LIBERALS

E. F. Ryan Makes Statement in Connection with Recent Conference.

That patronage was certainly discussed along with other matters at the recent conference of defeated Liberal candidates in Calgary, was the statement made Thursday by T. Herald by E. F. Ryan, who was beaten in West Calgary. In addition to patronage, the questions of immigration and redistribution were also taken up with a view to framing concrete suggestions which might be of value to the Mackenzie King administration, he said.

From another source it was ascertained definitely that patronage was one of the main topics of discussion at a communication was forwarded to Prime Minister King urging him to consider the question of patronage, the questions of immigration and redistribution were also taken up with a view to framing concrete suggestions which might be of value to the Mackenzie King administration, he said.

EMINENT BRITISHER ON CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM HERE

ALEXANDER THOMSON Late Parliamentary Agent and Secretary to David Lloyd George, England.

One of the outstanding characters on the Chautauqua program this year is Alexander Thomson, who will speak in Red Deer on Tuesday afternoon, June 27th. He is in touch with the men of affairs in the Empire and will give an address of vital interest to all British subjects on the subject "Present Day Problems of Self-government in the British Empire."

Following are a few press notices and a letter by Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), late moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. (From the Daily Colonist, Victoria.)

In an address before the British-American League, Alexander Thomson dealt with the idea of the extension of Self Government in the British Empire.

"The British Empire is now not so much a nation, but a commonwealth of nations. Canada, Australia and New Zealand are all partner nations with the United Kingdom, each sharing in its privileges and responsibilities. India and Ireland have both been accorded the same status which Canada enjoys. The policy of the extension of self-government to the different Dominions, as well as the progress of democracy at home, has helped greatly to bring about more cordial and lasting relations between the two great Anglo-Saxon speaking nations."

"MR. ALEXANDER THOMSON IN CANADA"

Under the above heading, the "British Weekly," one of the foremost weekly papers in Britain, referred to Mr. Thomson's Chautauqua tour in Manitoba and Saskatchewan during 1921, and said he had been "so well known and so highly esteemed as Parliamentary Agent and Parlia-

As a preacher, Mr. Thomson has an interesting and forceful style, and his wide range of experience of men and affairs gives him a note of authority that one likes to hear in a sermon these days.

Mr. Thomson possesses a singularly attractive personality, and is a man of undoubted ability and power. It was my pleasure to have him in my home for a short visit, where his charm seized upon every member of my family.

"FOOLS"—DID HE SAY?

The other evening a young man who is credited with more than the usual degree of intelligence, passed the remark on the street that "there is a Chautauqua guarantor born every minute." This was probably intended as a particularly clever attempt to convey the impression that the people who stand back of the Chautauqua contract are fools. The man was probably too refined to say so in that phraseology and resorted to the more humorous expression.

We would have considered that he was merely passing a joke if he had not gone on to support this contention by argument. But, in all seriousness, we wish to submit that the communities in Western Canada, and there are many of them, owe a debt of gratitude to the men and women who have made Chautauqua possible. During the days of the war, and the period of reconstruction, it has been a potent factor in giving the people something to think about besides their troubles and lead them out a little into the realm of the idealistic.

It is a popular pastime for some people to criticize the form of the contract which makes the "People's University" possible. However, this may be, certain it is that no other institution brings as much entertainment, information and inspiration to the people for the small sum of three dollars. There will be people who will tell the ticket seller this week, and next that they cannot afford to buy a ticket even at the low price at which they are offered. Some will be sincere in this, others will be merely stalling, inasmuch as they do not hesitate to spend that amount on something that will not bring the results that Chautauqua would.

One thing that the people of Red Deer need, more than anything else, is the spirit of community co-operation, or, in other words, the "give and take" spirit. Outside of our churches, our lodges, and our clubs, there is nothing whatever that does along these lines. There is very little opportunity or tendency for the people to get together in a democratic way. We are not even having the Board of Trade luncheons that place both larger and smaller towns of Red Deer are specializing in these times.

In the realm of sport, the same condition prevails. Last year we had an outcry for amateur ball. This year, with amateurs putting up a very fair brand of ball twice a week, the attendance at the games would seem to indicate that the public do not care a snap for the development of local sport. The very same situation prevails, only to a greater degree, in regard to football. Putting it mildly, the lack of support that our amateurs are receiving is a disgrace.

In the realm of music, we have some of the brightest young musicians that can be found anywhere, but whose encouragement are they receiving? Very little. If one would take the trouble to enquire regarding the amount of public patronage that has been accorded recitals of unusual merit within the past few months.

Where are we drifting to? With 680 pupils enrolled in our public and high schools, with a census enumeration of 2323 souls within our city limits, we haven't even a high school van Lake, Ponoka and other much smaller places than Red Deer are making at least some pretence toward having a Band. But we can't blame the boys who have stood loyally behind the Band for all these years; they are absolutely fed up on the public indifference regarding the matter. Foolish, probably, they have been in the past in the estimation of some like our learned friend. Any man who stops for a moment to contemplate his boyhood days, and how he enjoyed hearing a Band, will certainly agree that it is a serious matter for our community life that there is no Band here this year. The trouble with a lot of people is that they are dead standing up and they don't know it. If Chautauqua can be the means of rousing us from our lethargy, and creating a little community spirit, blessings on the men and women who are taking the initiative. Whatever criticism there may be on the form of the contract, it is the only possible basis on which Chautauqua could visit Red Deer this year, and the Lord knows there never was a time when we needed it worse than we do now. Perhaps in the future something different may develop.

"Fools"—did he say? That term has always been applied to those who were willing to make sacrifices for the public good. But surely the people of Red Deer as a whole will appreciate the coming of Chautauqua and will be willing to get the very best out of it in the development of a broader citizenship and community cooperation for the upbuilding of public institutions.

MANY CHANGES IN TEMPERANCE ACT ARE PROPOSED

British Columbia Government Given
Monopoly in Importing Liquor; Saskatchewan Given Power to Abolish
Liquor Exporting; Certain Powers
For Other Provinces.

Ottawa, June 10.—A new bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act was given first reading in the house of commons last night. This bill takes the place of one which was introduced earlier in the session and which was discharged from the order paper to make room for its successor. The original bill dealt only with a request from British Columbia. The new measure meets the wishes of the authorities of Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

The provision requested by British Columbia asks that the provincial government should be the sole importer of spirituous liquor in that province. This provision is varied as regards Quebec to give to the commission which has control of the liquor trade in that province similar authority in the provincial government in British Columbia.

For Nova Scotia and Ontario the Doherty act shall be read as being included in part four of the Canada Temperance act. This is the part of the act under which prohibitions were held in these provinces. For Saskatchewan it is enacted that no person shall have the power to export spirituous liquors. This provision coming into force on the passing of an order-in-council so requesting.

MAYOR OF WINNIPEG TO BE BURIED IN VICTORIA

Winnipeg, June 10.—The funeral of Mayor Edward Parnell, who died in Victoria, B.C., yesterday, will be held next Wednesday at Victoria, according to the wishes of the late mayor. The funeral will be held at night from Mrs. Parnell. In a wire addressed to acting Mayor Fowler, replying to his offer of a civic funeral in Winnipeg, Mrs. Parnell said: "While appreciating the honor of a civic funeral, my husband wished to be laid to rest in Victoria." Alderman William Douglas will represent the city at the funeral. Mayor Parnell was 63 years of age and is survived by a widow and 7 children.

LADY LUCK WAS WITH HIM

An illiterate justice of the peace used to consult what looked like a law book, but was really a mail order catalogue. One day a negro was haled before him on a charge of drunkenness. The justice heard his defence and then, after opening his book and glancing at it, fined the negro $4.49, to be worked out on the road. As the negro was being led away he said to the marshal, "If the squire had happened to open that book at automobiles instead of pants you'd be working on the road the rest of your life."

PROGRESSIVES FIND THE CUPBOARD BARE

(From Our Ottawa Correspondent)
Old Mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard
To get her poor dog a bone.
When she got there
The cupboard was bare;
And so the poor dog got none.

As the weeks pass into months, and the end of this session approaches, the parallel between aproned and sun-bonneted Mother Hubbard and the sixty-five Progressive members of Parliament becomes clearly defined. They were elected to Parliament last December aside to unearth three "bones" for their particular constituents. The first was revival of the Wheat Control Board and the compulsory wheat marketing system which goes with it. The second was to bring about operation of the Crow's Nest Pass freight rate agreement by blocking any further amending legislation. The third was to secure removal of the duties on agricultural implements, machinery of production, foodstuffs, footwear, clothing, coal and a variety of other products.

They have found a more barren political cupboard than ever confronted the lady of the rhyme and her dog. The Wheat Board, in the form which they demanded it, will not, cannot be granted. It is ultra vires of Parliament. The removal of the statutory rights of provinces and of individuals. An effort is now being put forth to secure in a manner of justification to their western followers through joint federal and provincial legislation. If the provinces are willing to guarantee the Dominion against loss, if private terminal interests and banking interests fall into line, they may gain something that will be called a Wheat Board, but which, in substance and scope, compares with the war-time board as a river tug compares to the Marquette.

In the matter of freight rates and the Crow's Nest Pass agreement, the hope has been abandoned. The 1897 schedules applicable to certain western tonnage have failed to find their way into the program of the Progressive members.

The rates were supported by Act of Parliament in 1919, and both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways insist that a return to them will mean an end to projected rate reductions for the rest of Canada as well as heavy additional deficits on our railways, and creating a little community spirit, blessings on the men and women who are taking the initiative. Whatever criticism there may be on the form of the contract, it is the only possible basis on which Chautauqua could visit Red Deer this year, and the Lord knows there never was a time when we needed it worse than we do now. Perhaps in the future something different may develop.

The tariff carried the last ray of sunshine that the Progressives hoped to carry back to their constituents as evidence of their effectiveness in public life. But the sunshine has suffered a total eclipse. Nothing has been done to decrease the cost of living. Nothing has been done to grant a free agricultural implements. From two out of a half to five percent, has been cut from existing duties. On implements in greatest demand the cut is the smallest, and in no case does it amount to taking off more than one-third existing duties. But that is not the sorriest blow. The two and a half percent reduction has been countered with a two percent increase in Sales Tax on goods of foreign origin.

It works out the way. The purchase of $100 worth of ploughs in the United States now costs the Canadian farmer only $121.90, whereas before the budget came down it would have cost him $122.20. The thirty cents saved is the difference between the lowered duty and the increased Sales Tax.

Thus has the Progressive party met with rebuff in attempting the application of its three chief planks. It has met the rebuff under circumstances perhaps as favourable as they ever can be to that party. It failed utterly in its purpose and stands as a Government that less than five months ago sought to conciliate with the Progressive party and from government which thankfully accepted Hon. T. A. Grew's assurance that his party would lend it "sympathetic support."

At the Capital, where the taking of the public pulse is a daily proceeding, there is much wonderment as to how the constituents of the Progressive members will view their "impotency." In many quarters the opinion is held that their utter failure will prove more conclusively than anything else the ineffectiveness of group representation in Parliament.

No one feels that failure more keenly than the leader of the Progressive party, Hon. T. A. Grew. While he has made no announcement on the subject, it is believed that when the time comes to state his position that call he will return to private life as President of the United Grain Growers or will succeed Mr. Motherwell as Minister of Agriculture in the King administration.

Like Mother Hubbard, it has only taken one glance to assure him that the cupboard is bare for group and class politicians.

OLDS

Some of our local livestock breeders have been getting a good deal of prominence and praise for the stock which they sent to the Edmonton Spring Show. In the various agricultural journals which sent out writers to report these events.

The young people of Olds, especially, are manifesting a keen interest in the big Edmonton show. Master Saddle Nod won the grand championship with a purebred Red Angus steer, afterward selling this animal by public auction to James Kennedy of Edmonton, for 25c a pound, the highest price realized at the sale.

RED DEER CHAUTAUQUA JUNE 24 TO 30

CAPTAIN T. DINSMORE UPTON
"Recreation Through Recreation"
First Night of Chautauqua.

It takes a man a whole lot out of the ordinary cast to earn the name of "Pat of All the Kids in Town." It requires a person with a deep understanding of boys and a real boy at heart himself. Such a person is Capt. T. Dinsmore Upton, who is soon to lecture here, the first night of Chautauqua.

Capt. Upton was formerly Superintendent of Municipal Playgrounds at Grand Rapids, Michigan, and later Athletic Director in the U.S. Army at two of our largest cantonments. In the Middle West there is probably no greater authority on playground work and recreation than "Dinny" Upton. He has given his life to this great work among our boys and girls. He loves the work and his whole heart is in it.

For the past three years Capt. Upton has turned to the field of the Lyceum and Chautauqua platform to further this humanitarian work. He is a splendid speaker, and his lecture is a real power for good in every community. It is sane, constructive, inspiring, masterpieces in the community should hear.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH FAVORS CHURCH UNION

Congregational Union Wants No Extension of Separate School Privileges

Brantford, Ont., June 10.—The last business session of the Congregation of the United Church of Canada, held yesterday, was marked by elections of various officers and by the passing of several important resolutions.

An important resolution passed by the union reads as follows: "This Congregational Union of Canada hereby declares that it heartily supports the system of public schools and the equal interpretation of these privileges have already been granted by law to separate schools, we would urge on the government that the exact interpretation of these privileges be ascertained and thereafter faithfully observed, but that no extension of such privileges should in any way be granted."

The union acknowledges with pleasure the receipt of a communication from the primates of the Church of England in Canada, enclosing the invitation of the general synod of that church to confer on the subject of the reunion of Christendom upon lines in harmony with the principles underlying the Lambeth conference.

Railway News

Bank.—Following the procedure of previous years, the Bank of Montreal has opened a temporary branch of the bank in the Canadian Pacific hotel at Banff, Alta., under the management of J. N. Bray.

Montreal.—For the convenience of its numerous patrons, the Canadian Pacific Railway "Telegraphs" has issued a neatly-bound list of all its offices in Canada and the tariff in each case. The pamphlet also includes the principal points in the United States with direct connection, a general tariff sheet and cable rates for overseas countries.

From now on Canadian Pacific steamers will dock at Coleman Dock, Seattle, instead of at Pier No. 1 as heretofore.

The passenger movement of the Canadian Pacific vessels will make the Coleman Dock one of the greatest waterfront passenger terminals on the Pacific Coast. For the Canadian Pacific service the south side of the Coleman Dock has been rebuilt, a large passenger ramp being provided for the handling of travelers between the ships and the second floor of the dock, all passengers embarking and debarking on the second floor.

Liverpool.—In addition to the Dominion Express services already maintained from Liverpool, Glasgow, Antwerp, Hamburg and Havre to Canada, the Dominion Express Company recently inaugurated their Southampton service.

The Dominion Express Co. will be maintaining a regular weekly express service from Southampton in addition to their other services. The Dominion Express Co.'s temporary offices in Southampton are No. 10, Canute-road. Telegraphic address, "Domexpress."

Liverpool.—There was a "cargoo" of brides on the Canadian Pacific liner "Metagama," which sailed from Liverpool recently.

In all there were on board 25 girls who were leaving the Old Country to join their betrothed in the Dominion. The girls were seeking fortunes and preparing homes.

This batch of brides is believed to be a record for any vessel leaving the Mersey, and the "Metagama" has thus well earned the title bestowed on her by the "brides' ship."

Special entertainments were held on the ship among the passengers in honor of the brides.

Montreal.—R. B. Angus was 91 years old on Sunday, May 28th. One of the original promoters of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he was well known in the city and well. But although that nation-binding enterprise is history, he is the present of the city.

Richard Bladworth Angus, born in Bathgate, Scotland, May 28, 1831, was one of the early justifying the policy of bringing young bankers from north of the Tweed to north of the Great Lakes.

Mr. Angus celebrated his ninety-first birthday at his country house at Senneville. He was in fine spirits and expressed himself as being very happy. His health is now and then has been for some time and Mr. Angus is looking forward to the enjoyment of many more years.

All the members of the Angus family were present at the birthday party. The party was held at luncheon at which Mr. Angus received a large number of guests. The party was held at luncheon at which Mr. Angus received a large number of guests.

Banff.—A long felt want of mountain climbers and those interested in riding and walking over the mountains has just been supplied by the Canadian Pacific Hotels in the form of an illustrated book entitled "What to Wear, Climbing, Walking, Riding." The average novice intent on enjoying the mountains generally proceeds to the mountains with a poor idea of the equipment necessary. This little book gives all details about clothing and equipment. There are samples of the advice the book contains.

A week before setting out for a mountain climb prepare the feet by rubbing with liniment over the woolen stockings. Wear leather strap garters, nailed boots, large and of best quality. Bring a "sack" to carry lunch, camera, etc. The booklet lists special cameras on the necessity for strong boots, and recommends "Prospectors boots" when they can be obtained. A supply of the time and kind of boots is kept at Lake Louise.

In case the weather turns out bad mountaineers should bring woolen mittens, a woolen skin cap; yellow, green or fawn gloves are recommended to defend the effect of the glare of the snow on the eyes.

A PUBLIC UTILITY

Place the Local Newspaper Should Always Occupy.

The local newspaper is the foremost public utility of any community. Without it a community is as greatly handicapped as a man who is deaf, dumb and blind. Wonderful things have been accomplished by people so afflicted that they are at a great disadvantage.

A good newspaper by the regularity of its publication makes it possible to inaugurate co-operative movements for the community good. It can keep its subscribers informed of the matters of most interest to them at a minimum of expense. There is a heavenly agent for the community's enterprise.

There is more certain proof for any town in encouraging a poor newspaper to become good and a good local newspaper to become better, than in any other kind of effort. At some time or other every community that wants to grow through a board of trade which goes through the motions of trying to attract outside capital to the point of making the community the site of new industrial enterprises. "Beyond the Rocks" Screened Under the Supervision of Elinor Glyn, Famous Author.

The verandah of the Cafe Ritz in Paris affords one of many intensely interesting scenes in "Beyond the Rocks," the Paramount picture of Elinor Glyn's famous novel, in which Gloria Swanson is starred, and which is screening Friday and Saturday at the Rex Theatre. Here at the customary table are grouped exactly the types of that present-day life exclusive establishment, for satisfying the inner man and also pleasing the eye and ear.

At one table is seated a couple of the bourgeoisie, as is plainly discernible by their appearance of dress and parvenu is stamped in every thing—their expensive attire over-emphasized by their eating and talking. But between them sits the daughter of the house—and the excuse for their presence in the select confines—for she is lovely and refined and sweet as a rare flower.

At another is a typical continental woman in perfect taste, with a gentleman apparently of some foreign birth; at another is an elderly man with starting whiskers who laughs and indulges in repartee with his wife.

Over there is Rodolph Valentino—looking his part of the young English aristocrat with Spanish ancestry. He is as Alec Francis, playing the father of Theodora, enters, accompanied by Gloria Swanson, who has the stellar role of the last named character. They meet and Valentino is drawn to his side. It is all correct, all in perfect taste—and extreme care was exhibited in this as in every phase of the picture. Elinor Glyn being present to care for every bit of detail, and assist Sam Wood, the director, in maintaining the long association with people of the types heretofore described has rendered the picture a most successful one.

And she personally supervised the rearrangement of the collars of seven of the people who played the picture—very important, at one occasion—when the picture was being shown. On one occasion she was seen to take over the hair of a butler to make it conform to what she felt was the proper effect.

Never did anyone take a keener interest in these matters than the distinguished British author. She was on the set early and late, always ready to advise and actually jump in and do the work if necessary of rearranging minor or great details.

Two Others Have Narrow Escape in Deep Water.

Miss Mabel Robinson, the 14-year-old daughter of John Robinson, of Huxley, Alta., was drowned at the Pine Lake hotel on Sunday afternoon while bathing in the lake with her sister, Miss Mabel Robinson, and a girl companion, Miss Margaret Peterson, all of Huxley, Alta. The three young ladies were engaged playing and bathing in the lake, when Miss Mabel Robinson slipped off the ledge with a drop of about 25 feet in the water and was beyond her depth. Efforts of the other two girls to save her resulted in the three of them being immersed in the deep water. Miss Peterson, who was the only one of the three able to swim, reached shore. Miss Mabel was brought to shore in a boat by Gus McPherson, Red Deer, who happened to be near the scene at the time. A resuscitating party succeeded in finding Miss Mabel Robinson about 25 minutes later, and on being brought to shore first aid was used in an effort to bring life back, but all efforts proved futile. The accident occurred about one o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The fact that portions of the lake should be marked off, as it is not safe for indiscriminate bathing, as the bottom of the lake is very uneven in places.

CORRESPONDENCE

Wants Road Money Spent Economically

Mr. Editor:—We have never had the honor of meeting Mr. Alagworth, who has charge of the roads in this riding, but we think he is using good judgment in having the graded roads dragged after a rain. In fact, from our long experience, it is the only way to keep these dirt roads in condition. On the other hand, to have the ungraded roads such as these here dragged is waste of time and money, and we think that money spent on grading first would be the only thing to do.

Our taxes at the present time are a nightmare; for goodness sake let us have the money spent economically.

SAVE THE BIRDS' NESTS

In spite of the work and money expended by a large portion of this community to attract and conserve useful birds, reports have been received that many birds' nests in this city have been wantonly robbed and destroyed during the last few days.

The game wardens and the police have been notified, and any vandal who is caught destroying nests or eggs will be severely dealt with under the Game Act. Red Deer has made a reputation for itself with its foliage, its gardens and its birds. The latter play a very important part in making our garden possible. Save the birds' nests.

A MODEL SILO

O. W. Thorne, manager of the Manning-Sutherland Lumber Co., has made a very neat model of a silo of his own design. It is all made to scale, even the iron and the doors, and attracts a good deal of attention at the year.

As part of their course in Agriculture, Principal Locke had the pupils of Grade XI in the High School, to the Manning-Sutherland yard the other day to examine the silo, study its construction, and see examples of silage, which Mr. Thorne had secured at B. Raymer's farm.
